SOLDIERS OF THE CZAR

Mass of Russian Troops at Vladivestock.

WHAT A TRAVELER SAYS

Two Hundred Thousand Troops Massed There.

It Is Surmised That Russia Will Occupy Northern Korea, but Possible Collision Not Imminent.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10.-The most reof Russian troops in the far East are concentrated at Vladivostock or on the corthern frontler of Korea. A traveler who has lately returned from the far East estimates that between 100,000 and 200,000 soldiers were in the vicinity of Viadivostock. He surmised that the Russians will occupy northern Korea, but thought that the possible collision was not imminent for a month or more when taking into consideration distances and the difficultles of marching

MUST SAIL UNDER OWN COLORS. Commenting on the possibility of Japaiese vessels employing the British flag. Novoe Vremya contends that the custom of civilized states requires that warships shall said under their own national flag, and adds: "One can run away, but not fight under a foreign flag. Ac-cording to international law the British flag has not the privilege of protecting all these cowards who might hoist it."

INTEREST OF UNITED STATES. Referring to the interest of the United States in the situation, the Novoe Vremyn says: 'Undoubtedly the United States, above all other powers, can confidently expect that its trade will not suffer by Russian possession of Manchurla, and it would be tactless on America's part to demand now what she could gain peacefully when everything quiets down.

WANT TREATIES RATIFIED. A telegram from Port Arthur says that the United States and Japan are urging the immediate ratification of their respec-tive treaties with China. In view of the probability that Russia will not consent to the opening of certain ports in Man-churia the Chinese foreign office is placed in a difficult position. in a difficult position

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Japanese Legation in London So Regards Outlook.

London, Jan. 10 -At the Japanese legaion tonight it was said that the far Eastern situation remained unchanged. mastern gruntion remained unchanged. No news has been received by the legation and it was believed that some days might clapse before any developments occurred, as Japan was still considering her reply. No news has been received at the legation concerning the reported dispatch of troops to Kores.

Russia has not yet carried out the expected military occupation of Shiming-Time.

The Chinese rallways in Manchuria are congested with traffic, and especially the line to the Russian frontier.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Latest and Most Reliable Estimate of Fighting Strength.

Probably the latest and most reliable estimate of the relative fighting strength of Japan and Russia is that made for the London Times by its military and naval Herald. The outlook, according to these experis, is more favorable to Japan at sea, while there is at least an even chance

The naval expert admits, to start with, that there are factors on both sides which are hard to determine, but he gives us the benefit of all the knowledge available. He compares the Japanese fleet with the Russian ships which are either in the far East or are now on their way there. Japan has six battleships to Russia's eight, but not even the best of the Russian ships comes up to the Japanese standard. Moreover, the Japanese ships are practically all of one grade, and can be handled therefore to great advantage, while the Russian fleet must adapt itself in action to the capacity of its poorest vessel. In armored cruisers Japan has six to Russia's five, and Japan's are the better. In protected cruisers Japan has fourteen to Russia's eight. The naval expert admits, to start with,

FOUR FINE DOCKYARDS.

FOUR FINE DOCKYARDS.

Even more important that this superiority of fleet is the fact that Japan has four one dockyards, "quite capable both of constructing and repairing vessels of any class," while Russia's docking facilities are "entirely landequate even for the ordinary repair and maintenance of the fleet." So great is Japan's superiority at sea, everything considered, that the writer would not be surprised if the Russians should "withdraw their ships into the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li rather than force a fleet action."

when the issue at sea has been settled, either by victory or blockade, then will come the land campaign. Japan's permanent army has 7500 officers and 190,690 men Her reserve and territorial armies bring her total land force to 420,000 men. Russia, according to the best estimate that can be made, has about 150,000 men in the far East, while "it is probable that the Russian traops which would be available for service in Manchuria when either Russia or Japan has proved its navail demination in the China seas will not much exceed 200,000 men."

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES. With Japan victor at sea, the military expert believes that Japan's transportation facilities would be far superior to Russia's. He points out that the Siberian railroad is exceedingly vulnerable, that it would require an immerise force to Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm of Fergus Falls. Minn, fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep, which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by all drus-

RUSSIA NOW THREATENS CHINA.

London, Jan. 11.-The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Daily Mail says the Russian Government has sent to the Chinese Government a threat that Russia would immediately occupy Peking should China join forces with Japan. As a result the Grand Council has advised the Throne to adopt the policy of neutrality.

RUSSIA AND FAR EAST

Her Attitude Toward the United States.

NOT HOSTILE TO AMERICA

liable news received here is that the mass | Has Repeatedly Expressed Intention in Manchuria.

> Good Faith Shown by Refraining From Endangering American-Chinese Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 10 -By an authority conversant with Russia's position in the far East and her attitude toward American interests there, the Associated Press today was given this statement:

"In view of the wide circulation given reports without basis in fact charging Russia with hostility to American interests in the far East, it seems that the attitude of Russia should be again defined.

"Russia has repeatedly expressedher intention of assisting the development of commercial Interests in Manchuria, knowing that the Chinese policy of the United States Government is guided merely by an aim to develop trade and not by political ambition. Russia has shown her good faith by refraining from any action which would endanger the conclusion of the American-Chinese commercial treaty signed on October 8th. That treaty has been ratified by the throne at Pe king, and thus through the medium of the United States the important ports of Mukden and Antung in Manchuria are opened to the commerce of the

This is the 'open door' which has been a part of American and Russian policy since the Boxer outrages which necessitated the intervention of the powers and which materially changed conditions in Manchuria.

"Russia will certainly not submit to dictation at the hands of any power as to the protection of her legitimate interests in Manchuria. Negotiations are in progress between St. Petersburg and Peking in the effort to reach an agreement adequately protecting the special or predominant influence exercised by Russia in Manchuria, and which has been recognized by all the powers signatory to the peace protocol,

verbally or in writing
"At the time of the signing of that convention it was Russia's hope that she could with safety withdraw forces from Manchuria last October and leave the protection of her interexts to China. In the meantime, however, it was clearly demonstrated that the guarantees offered by China were wholly insufficient, and it became necessary for the Russlan Government to ask for additional guarantees.

Times by its military and naval "Until these have been arranged for the Russian Government cannot be expected to withdraw from Manchuria, and thus menace the many Russian lives and forfelt the $350,000,000 which has been spent there in the civilization and development of that prov-

"Russia is ready and anxious to stimulate the development of foreign com-merce in Manchuria. The growth of trade means the success of the Siberian railway. Russia believes, however, that this commercial development is possible without the establishment of spheres of political influence in the open ports. Russia's political influence in this ter-ritory, which lies on her borders, is and must be considered predominant and its effectiveness would be impaired by the creation of any form of foreign political influence in the shape of extra terri-torial government or municipal control and regulation of certain districts with these open ports similar to conditions such as, for example, exist at Shanghal "But no trouble is anticipated on this score as the American-Chinese commer-cial treaty providing for the setting iside of certain districts in Mukden and Antung as places of international resi-dence and trade and the provision for their regulation is not considered as tending toward the establishment of a system like that surrounding foreign interests at Shanghai. "Russia does not propose to discuss the negotiations now in progress. But it should be realized she is availing her-self of every reasonable means to reach an agreement by diplomacy. "It will be an interesting bit of information to the Russian Government to know the primary object of the Tokio regotiations, so far as Japan is con-cerned, is the protection of American and English interests in the far East. Russia had supposed that Japan was influenced by less unselfish motives."

guard it, and that at best its facilities cannot sere for the maintenance of more than 100,000 men. On the other hand, Japan, with her railroads and harbors and with her short sen haul, "should be able to land an expeditionary force superior to any force that Russia by means of her land communications can concentrate against her in four months."

The personal factors—bravery, brains, enthusiasm and discipline—are less amenable to calculation, but both the military and naval experts selleve in their best judgment that the Japanese are the superior.

NO ULTIMATUM.

Japan Has No Idea of Sending One to Russia.

London, Jan. 11.-The reassuring news that the Russian warships which recently left Vladivostock have returned there is confirmed in a Vladivosteck dispatch reolved at St. Petersburg. The dispatch asserts, however, that only the armored cruiser Gromover went to sea for a couple OLD MAN DROPS DEAD of days' practice, the other ships of the fleet having remained at Vladivostock. Special dispatches from Tokio printed in this marning's newspapers are very warrike but add little or nothing to the knowledge of the situation. They reiterate that Japan has no idea of sending an ultimatum to Russia.

Anxiety is apparently felt in Tokio for the safety of the cruisers Ninsia and Kasaga, which left Genoa Saturday, and in connection with the departure of which the Genoa correspondent of the Daily Mail this morning gives a curious story to the effect that an iron bar was found inside the ammunition hold of the Niasia, placed in such a position that it short-circuited the electrical apparatus, with the object, it is suggested, of destroying the vessel, although there is no evidence to show that its being there was not accidental. No serious damage was done.

Soul dispatches report the arrival of additional Russian and Italian marines there.
